Campaign Subscribers.

This will be the last of our paper to which the campaign subscribers will be entitled, unless they choose to renew their subscription—which we hope most of them will do. Now, that the election is over, we shall be enabled to fill our columns with a greater variety of news and other interesting reading, must prove profitable. The work from those who have read it during the campaign, will we should think be desirous of continuing it now. During the long nights of winter, a weekly paper must be a useful and interesting visitor. We do not see how any one who has experienced the luxury can deprive himself of it, when he can procure it on such reasonable terms.

Election.

We have not received much additional news since our last. The telegraph furnishes nothing more, and the mails are rather tardy in bringing the full returns.

We may sum up the whole in a few words. Mr. Winfield Scott, the man who (the whigs call him) never lost a battle, has been most ingeniously defeated—totally excommunicated—to borrow an expressive and elegant newspaper phrase. He has got Massachusetts and Vermont (18 electoral votes,) and may perhaps also got Kentucky and Tennessee—though we think it extremely doubtful—making 24 more, or 42 in all. Pierce gets all the rest—254 electoral votes certain, and a chance for 24 more—the vote of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The democrats have not only this large majority of the electoral vote, but also an overwhelming majority of the popular vote, having carried most of the States by unprecedented large majorities. New York gives us 25,000 majority; Pennsylvania 20,000; Ohio 15,000; Indiana 18,000; Virginia 10,000; North Carolina 6,000; Georgia 8,000; Missouri 10,000; Wisconsin 7,000; New Jersey 5,000; Maryland 6,000; Maine 19,000; New Hampshire 10,000.

Tennessee has been reported to have given Pierce 3,000; and Kentucky 2,000. Later accounts claim both to have gone for Scott. A few days will decide which is correct, and settle the question whether the redoubtable G. Scott and the universal whig party have been able to carry four States in the Union, only two. We incline to believe the latter.

New York.—The democrats here have used the hickory broom to some purpose, and made a clean sweep. Besides giving Pierce 25,000 majority, they have elected Seymour Governor by 15,000; 21 democrats to 11 whigs and 1 free soiler to Congress; and 71 democrats to 39 whigs to the Legislature!!

We hope the discontents which have so long divided our party in that State are now permanently healed, and that New York will resume its position at the head of the democratic column.

We have not yet seen full returns from all the counties in this State of the result of the election. We think Pierce's majority was not less than 18,000.

While gave Pierce 201 majority; Hale 69; Elkhart, 275 for Pierce.

Gambrelia's Majority.—The official return of E. M. Chamberlain in the 10th congressional district, is 909. He received 6,75 votes; Mr. Brenton, 5,950; and Mr. Lurough 12.

Hurlan's majority in the 11th district is 1,115.

In Eddy's, in the 9th district, is 1,094.

The Telegraph Co.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Telegraph Co. will be held at Indianapolis on Monday the 22d inst.

As some dissatisfaction exists among the stockholders in regard to the management of the affairs of the Company, it would be advisable for them to be well represented at the meeting, and have a thorough investigation. The power rests in their own hands, if they are disposed to exercise it.

Influous Slander.—The malignity with which Mr. Pierce has been pursued through the campaign has not yet ceased. The Times this week copies an article from the State Journal, purporting to be extracted from a Concord paper, charging Mr. Pierce with gross intemperance. This vile calumny was first started by the New York Tribune immediately after his nomination; but it had to be retracted a few days afterwards. The malignity of the family physician who has assisted Mr. Pierce's family for years; of the minister whose church he attends; and of a host of acquaintances, many of whom are whigs, who, every opportunity of knowing his private life, was conclusive that the statement was false. The N. Hampshire Temperance Faculty, the editor of which is a whig, says Mr. Pierce is a zealous laborer in the temperance cause, and has made some of the most eloquent and effective temperance addresses he (the author) ever listened to.

And yet now, the election is over, this stale and off-refined calumny is revived by the Federal press. This malignity cannot harm the object of their hate, and only shows the impotence of their rage, and the depth of degradation to which they can descend.

Fort Wayne & Lima Plank Road.—The quarterly dividend of 14 per cent on the stock of this company, for the quarter ending on the 30th September last, is now being paid by the Treasurer, O. W. Jeffords, at the office of S. Hanna.

Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad.—The prospect of this great work—the last link in the great chain uniting Philadelphia and Baltimore with the Upper Lakes and the Far West—are highly encouraging. Mr. Strangman, the chief engineer, and a corps of assistants, are busily engaged surveying the route, and have found it unusually promising. The ground is favorable, affording low grades without any necessity for deviating from a straight line, and the road will be one of the cheapest and most easily constructed in the country. There can be no doubt it will, when completed, do an immense business, and of course the stock variety of news and other interesting reading, must prove profitable. The work from those who have read it during the campaign, will we should think be desirous of continuing it now. During the long nights of winter, a weekly paper must be a useful and interesting visitor. We do not see how any one who has experienced the luxury can deprive himself of it, when he can procure it on such reasonable terms.

For the election of Seward, and from the first felt indifferent as to the result. They supported Scott, simply because there was no better man to support, but they did it without enthusiasm, and without any great expectation or desire of success. They were quite willing that Scott should fail of his election, as Seward should control his administration. We have no doubt that, under the influence of this feeling, thousands of the Silver Grays of N. York failed to vote on the day of election.

The effect which the nomination was expected to have upon the Free Soil party, was not realized. The "higher law" of Gov. Seward did not mislead them as it had misled the Whigs. They made their nominations and notwithstanding all the good results predicted by Mr. Hale's tour through Ohio by the Whigs, they generally supported their nominees, and preserved their integrity as a party, thus thwarting the anticipations of those members of the National Convention most anxious to secure Scott's nomination.

Mr. Webster what it was understood would take the stump for Illinois if nominated, was so much disengaged at the result, that he by his conduct, sealed his willingness that Scott should be defeated, and became himself the candidate of a large number of disaffected Whigs who voted for him even after his defeat, and thus greatly increased the Whig vote in Massachusetts, while in N. York his friends, three thousand strong, did the same for Scott.

From these various causes, it will at once appear that while the Whigs lost everything in the South, they gained nothing in the North by the nomination of Gen. Scott. We do not wish to complain, but had our party not in nomination Mr. Fillmore, or Mr. Crittenden, or any man who occupied the position, which those gentlemen were known to occupy, on the compromised question, it is plain enough now, to see that our opponents would have been sadly puzzled to beat us with Franklin Pierce. The South instead of being against, would have been for us. We should have lost but little more by Free Soilism in the North, that we lost with Scott. Sewardism would not have greatly affected us in N. York, and all the influence of the friends of Mr. Webster, would have been for us. With all this, we might not have been successful, but we certainly had not been so terribly defeated.

Another of the causes which operated against the Whigs in the campaign just closed, was the sympathy affected by theLocofoco party for Kossuth, and the opposition which his doctrines encountered from the Whigs. This gained for the Locofoco party the German vote of the nation. The Whigs foresaw this result, but supposed that while it deprived them of one part of the foreign vote, it would gain for them another. They did receive some support from Irish votes, but not to the extent which they had reason to anticipate.

This is not the proper place to assert the position which a conservative party should occupy on the doctrine of intervention with foreign nations. We desire to consider that in a future article.

Another cause of our defeat, may be traced to the supposed connection of certain members of the Cabinet, with the claims of Graplin's heirs, and Gardner agaist the U. S. Government. We have not a doubt that both Secretary Crawford and Corwin, are entirely innocent of fraud in these matters. We do not believe that any of the leaders of the Locofoco party, who charged them with guilty intention, believed the syllable of the charges they have promulgated. But, at the same time, we cannot deny the "appearance of evil." The fact that they had been connected with these claims, or that they were to derive benefit from them in any way, in case they were successful, was inconsistent with its face, at least, with the several positions they occupied in the Cabinet and furnished ground both for suspicion and complaint. The people took that view of the subjects, and how innocent soever those men might be, their position, lost to the Whig party, in every State in the Union, phenomena of votes.

That there were other causes which operated to injure the Whig party, such as actually entered into the Presidential Campaigns, we have not a doubt, but those who have come forward with these pretensions. They were sufficient, and now that the election is over, it will be well for the Whigs to ponder upon them, and in the future avoid the rock upon which they have now stranded.

Tenth Circuit.—Judge, Ezra A. McPherson, Dem.; Pros. Attorney, J. M. Connel, Dem.

Eleventh Circuit.—The following tables exhibit the number of votes cast at each of the Presidential elections for the past twenty five years.

Years. No. of votes,

1828..... 1,162,418

1832..... 1,290,493

1836..... 1,501,293

1840..... 2,413,650

1844..... 2,764,031

1848..... 2,873,631

From these figures it will be seen, that the number of voters in the country in 1818, was nearly equal to the whole population of the country at the close of the Revolutionary war.

New York Members of Congress.

It appears from the reports we find in the exchanges that the following are the members of Congress elect. Those in italics being Whigs, and the one in small capitals free soilists. We hoped and believed it would be successful, for them to be well represented at the meeting, and have a thorough investigation.

The power rests in their own hands, if they are disposed to exercise it.
